WineBusiness.com: "The highly engaging opening masterclass, at the recent Glass of Bubbly Show in central London, set the tone for the lunchtime Sustainability Summit: demonstrating that the combination of the new PET bottle, together with the best ecological natural cork closure, enables full-pressure sparkling wines to boast a negative carbon footprint."

TheBuyer.net: "...with the continuing hot topic of sustainability ringing in the ears of those in the wine industry then, the Sparkling Wine Summit supported by Prosecco DOC on this very topic, was one panel that needed heeding... the Glass of Bubbly Sustainability Summit in partnership with Prosecco DOC - where leading UK and Italian wine figures were able to address what steps are being taken and what other initiatives need to be prioritised." Abbie Bennington

"More of our clients are interested in what actions the wines they are drinking take in protecting our planet. The Sustainability in Wine Summit is the perfect place to hear about advancements in sustainable wines."

Paulius Keturakis - Champagne Route Bar, London
